PUBLIC READY TO QUIT CONFERENCE. A.F.L. HEADS CALLED

IMMEDIATE DISSOLUTION OF REMAINING GROUP IS PROPOSED.

BANKRUPT PLEA

Rockefeller Proposes Appointment Of "Commission On Unrest."

Washington, Oct. 24.—Immediate dissolution of the public group—the "National Industrial Conference"—is proposed in a recommendation of the committee of five which will be made to the group this afternoon should the recommendation be adopted. The conference would end tonight.

Edward N. Hurley, former chairman of the shipping board, who called at the White House today to inquire as to the president's health, approved the stand taken by organized labor in withdrawing from the conference.

"I do not see how Mr. Gompers could have done anything better," Mr. Hurley said. "He did the best thing from his standpoint and probably the best thing for the country."

Rockefeller's suggestion, John D. Rockefeller, Jr., chairman of the committee appointed to determine the future course of the public representatives, suggested today that the conference was bankrupt and urging the appointment of a "commission on unrest" to take up the work of the conference.

Mr. Rockefeller's position was that the public delegates having participated in the full conference without opinion and that an entirely new body should be created.

Officials of the American Federation of Labor have been approached as to their attitude toward the proposal that the public group go ahead with the conference and organized labor understood to have promised cooperation.

SECOND WARD CAUCUS TO BE HELD TONIGHT

A candidate for alderman of the Second ward to succeed James True will be nominated at a caucus of citizens of that ward to be held at the city hall at 8 o'clock this evening. The council will officially elect Mr. True's successor at a special meeting of the council.

The meeting tonight is being held for the purpose of giving every Second ward citizen an opportunity to be heard and represented. Those prominent men have been suggested for the office and a lively discussion as to qualifications of the candidates will doubtless result tonight.

LONGSHOREMEN FACE ULTIMATUM OF U. S.

New York, Oct. 24.—New York's striking longshoremen today faced an ultimatum by the United States shipping board that if they did not return to work this evening, the board would undertake to end the long delay of shipping by loading and unloading its ships with men brought here especially for the purpose.

When the ultimatum was delivered it was stated by an official of the shipping board that if the police protection proved inadequate "a high authority would be appointed to Mayor Hylan was called upon to furnish additional police today at the various piers affected."

Congregationalists Hold Open Forum Mass Meeting

Grand Rapids, Mich., Oct. 24.—Sectional meetings and an open forum mass meeting were on the program of the Congregational national council's convention here today.

New Villages Elect Officers as First Step

Sturgeon Bay, Oct. 24.—Door county newest village Ephraim, which was recently incorporated, has elected its officers, as the first step toward organizing its government. E. Thompson was chosen president. The village's first official will hold office until the next regular spring election.

Lansing Is Kept Busy

The illness of President Wilson has caused many new duties to fall on the secretary of state and as a consequence he is probably the busiest man in Washington today. Without advice of the president he must handle all questions of foreign policy, as well as many domestic ones, and in addition he presides at meetings of the cabinet. He is not accountable to congress for any of his official acts, but is liable to impeachment if he encroaches on legislative ground.

DR. DAVID BEATON WILL BE ROOSEVELT DINNER SPEAKER

Dr. David Beaton, Chicago, former pastor of the Congregational church in this city, will be the third speaker at the Roosevelt dinner to be given at the Myers hotel, Monday night at 8:30 o'clock. Secretary of State Meritt Hall and Col. Gilbert Seaman, Milwaukee, will be on the program. Mr. G. Jeffris will be toastmaster.

The dinner will mark the wind-up of the Roosevelt Memorial campaign as well as be an observance of the late colonel's birthday. Many representatives of the international unions will be present. The dinner will be held at the Myers hotel, Janesville, Monday evening at 8:30 o'clock.

Make your reservations now for the Roosevelt Dinner, which will be held at the Myers Hotel, Janesville, Monday evening at 8:30 o'clock.

must be made known before Saturday night, so that arrangements for the dinner can be completed. Wilson Lane, who has charge of the menu, said this morning that W. C. Keeler, proprietor of the Myers hotel, had assured him of a fine feast.

The committee on arrangements has decided that the charge for the dinner will be one dollar per plate. Funds for the affair have been received by the committee in charge of the dinner. An invitation is extended to the public, but their desire to attend must be made known before Saturday night, so that arrangements for the dinner can be completed.

TRIAL OF MOTOR CO. FOR MISUSE OF MAILS OPENS

Chicago, Oct. 24.—Legal preliminaries were disposed of today and the way cleared for opening arguments of both sides at the trial in federal court.

Questioning of prospective jurors by counsel for the defense indicated an effort will be made to show that the company was not a mere association of advertisers and that the promoters of the company were only honestly trying to find a great business, but "succeeded splendidly."

International Trade Program Is Outlined

Atlantic City, N. J., Oct. 24.—The international trade conference, which for five days has been considering the financial and industrial problems of Great Britain, France, Italy, and Belgium, will today take up the question by which the United States might aid them, entered its final stage today. Before the conference adjourns tonight, the United States national organization of business will be a reality.

"Y" CAMPAIGN LAGS; $5,614 AND 313 NEW MEMBERS TOTAL NOW

With but one day remaining in which to solicit funds and memberships for the Y. M. C. A. campaign officials for the first time during the drive expressed doubt today as to whether the quota would be reached. Only $5,614 had been subscribed up to noon today while new memberships totaled 313. An eleven-hour drive to secure the desired total of $20,000 was to be made by workers this afternoon and tomorrow morning.

It is hoped that the shop committee will be able to complete the drive at the last luncheon at 12:15 tomorrow noon. This committee has reported but 31 members and $297 in subscriptions up to date. Officials are also pinning hope on the results of the campaign to be carried on in the Samsen Tractor plant next week.

HER MAJESTY LIKES RED-CHEEKED GIRLS SEEN IN U. S. SHOPS

How's This For H.C.L., Hat and All?

Washington, Oct. 24.—Official estimates for a "health and decency" budget for government clerks place the minimum annual expense of a pair of red cheeks at $2,262; an unmarried woman at $1,083, and a single man at $1,000.

These figures were made public today by Dr. Royal Meeker, chief of the bureau of labor statistics, in connection with the investigation of federal salaries by a congressional committee.

The food item in the family budget amounts to $772.93. The clothing bill for the year is put at $513.72, of which the husband is allotted $121.16, the wife $186.46, 11-year-old boy, $96.00, the 6-year-old girl, $52.50, and the baby (two years), $47. Housing, fuel and light are placed at $428, and miscellaneous expenses at $346.82, a total of $2,262.47.

If the wife was especially competent in the art of shopping, did her own sewing, and practiced all household economies, the budget be reduced, it was estimated, to $2,035.56.

The bureau, in compiling these estimates, makes a hat allowance of $10 a year, $10 for a winter hat and $5 for a summer one, the winter hat to be worn two years, and the summer one for a newspaper, held by Dr. Meeker to be a necessity.

The family annual appropriation is $1,000, which also includes magazines.

GLEE CLUBS STARTS REHEARSALS TUESDAY

The first rehearsal of the recently organized men's glee club will be held in the library. Tuesday evening, Oct. 29, at 8 o'clock.

The cooperation of the librarian and the Apollo club will give the club a fine opportunity to prepare for its first appearance before the public in a few weeks.

Who has a name for the new men's glee club? It should be appropriate for a musical organization.

Send in your suggestions to the Glee Club Editor of the Gazette. The name of the club would like to be put on a name at their meeting next Tuesday night. Do you wish to be the one who will have the privilege of naming the club?

TWO PROPOSITIONS FOR WAGE SCALE ARE TURNED DOWN

CONFEREES AGREE TO MEET THIS AFTERNOON FOR PRESIDENT'S ANSWER.

RAISE IS REFUSED

Operators Offer 15 Cents Per Ton Increase, Which Is Disapproved.

(By Associated Press.) Washington, Oct. 24.—Final appeal was made direct to President Wilson today to prevent the strike of half a million soft coal miners, called for November 1, after miners and operators meeting jointly with Secretary Wilson, had turned down two propositions to negotiate a new wage agreement.

While on the point of breaking up, the two groups, heeding the plea of Secretary Wilson, agreed to return at 4 o'clock this afternoon to receive the message he hoped to bring from the president.

Operators and miners today rejected a proposal by Secretary Wilson that they negotiate a new wage agreement calculated to avert the strike.

Miners Are Obdurate. The operators would not accept it because the miners refused to withdraw the strike order. Mr. Wilson came forward with still another proposal for settlement on which both sides immediately went to work.

This provided for a straight increase of 10 cents per ton for pick mining with an increase in the same ratio for machines and other classes of labor. The proposal also provided that there should be an eight-hour day "from bank to bank" and a half holiday on Saturday, the agreement to be effective November 1, and to continue until March 31, 1920.

Proposal Not Satisfactory. Some of the miners intimated that Mr. Wilson's new proposal would not be satisfactory, saying that they had been informed that the operators had been willing to grant an increase greater than the one proposed. Mr. Wilson then pleaded with leaders not to break up, but to continue the struggle for a while he would get in touch with the White House. The meeting was held together while the two groups discussed the matter, what course they would take.

THE WAR EMANCIPATE MEN?

A young man who had seen active service with the air forces and who had come home with a limp, was taking lunch with a man friend at a downtown restaurant much favored by women shoppers.

"American girls," remarked the former aviator, with a glance at the cheerful throngs about him, "are too commercial. When they think of marriage, they size up a man's earning power, and estimate the likelihood of his giving up his money cheerfully. Look at them here! Spending money as fast as they can while their men folks are kept busy grubbing away for more."

The young man had seen much of the domestic life in France, where women are often fully as active in business as their husbands, and even more frugal. When wounded, he had been sent to England to recuperate, and there he had been impressed by the universal habit of womanhood to minister to the menfolk, and allow the sterner sex to keep the leadership. On returning to his own country, the young man was disposed to hold with European critics that American women have been spoiled by too much petting.

Did the war loosen the grip of our young women upon the boys who saw overseas service? The publications now being issued for the former soldiers give us an occasional hint. With great glee a young cartoonist depicts the poetic justice that overtakes an austere and arbitrary top sergeant, who comes home to be crushed into complete and abject submission by his wife. Gone are the carefree days when a doughboy could do what he liked, free from petticoat rule. At least that is what we gather from stray pictures and jokes.

A writer in the "Unpartizan Review" tells of a conversation between two sailors, which he overheard in a street car. "Are you going home to your wife?" one asked. "No," was the answer. "But how about your kids?" "Well," rejoined the other, "I've been having a good time, and I'm not going back."

What shall we conclude? Did our men achieve too great a notion of independence and male superiority, while away, to suit the tastes of our women?

Perhaps there was a very perceptible drift along these lines, but it is probably a fact that in the time that has elapsed since demobilization, our very clever girls have got the reins back in their own hands again. Witness the great number of recent weddings in which ex-service men have been proudly but firmly conducted to the altar.

ONE SHORT YEAR'S CHANGES.

What is happening to the people who declared that never, never, so long as they lived, would they trade with Germans or buy articles of German manufacture?

A recent issue of the London Times carried two small advertisements under the classification of "Business Opportunities" that were illuminating. A British business man, who had located in Germany as a manufacturer's agent, advertised his willingness and desire to display English wares at the Frankfurt fair in September. In the second advertisement, a Teutonic firm announced its desire to enlist British capital in a project to develop coal mines in German Austria.

The armistice was signed less than a year ago, after a war marked by cruelty and bitterness, and now the hymns of hate have all been still in the rush for trade. England and France, we learn, and other allied countries as well, are eager to see what fortune can do for them in reviving trade with Germany. Representatives of American houses are at a disadvantage, we are told, because our European allies have beaten us in making peace.

The ways of this world are amazing. A year ago we stood together as one man to defeat Germany. Today, we fight and quarrel among ourselves over wages and hours of labor, and do our utmost to gain advantages from German trade.

Exaltation of spirit and high purpose were all right in the war time; now the sordid scramble for material advantage is the ruling passion.

DEFYING AMERICAN SENTIMENT.

Again German opera in New York, a rush of world war veterans to stop it, a battle with the police, a number of soldiers and sailors injured. Meanwhile the Germans having the opera and the audience assembled to hear them escaped unhurt.

Mob law when led by soldiers can no more be condoned than when it is resorted to by others. Neither can defiance of every law of propriety, if not of statutes, be endured calmly. These two things constitute a problem for the authorities that they must solve, for as long as a flagrant offense to the sentiment of the majority is tolerated by the authorities trouble is to be expected.

Irrespective of what legal rights may be claimed for the performance of German operas, there is nothing plainer than that it is a dangerous breach of propriety to attempt it, at least while we still are technically at war with Germany. It imposes a burden upon the public to protect the performers, and this is expected by the Germans and the pro-Germans under the most aggravating conditions. They ask us to club war heroes that those whom the veterans regard as un-American may continue their defiance of American sentiment and the laws of propriety.

Thus while mob law must be stopped at any cost, the sensible and just course is at the same time to prevent those things which flaunt defiance at 100 percent Americanism and those who risked their lives for it.

UNCONSCIENTIOUS COWARDS.

When patriotic fervor was at its height, and thousands upon thousands of Americans were gladly giving their services in the cause of world freedom, there appeared a certain number of individuals in many communities who claimed exemption on the ground that they were conscientious objectors—which in most cases meant that they were either cowardly or disloyal. So intense was the public opprobrium that these fellows welcomed incarceration in prisons or in war camps, and thus escaped the dangers to which those who composed the host of American soldiers were constantly exposed. Willing, indeed, were these shirkers to play the part of the potlatch when it meant safety, and they congratulated themselves on their cunning and duplicity when they were set free at the end of the war.

But now it develops that with surprising impudence and effrontery, several of these "objectors" who disarmed Wisconsin with their presence have made application for the bonus to be given by the state for the "sacrifice and service" of men who served in the army or navy during the world war. Thus these "conscientious objectors" reveal themselves in their true character.

JUST FOLKS

Edgar A. Guest

THE COST.

If the goal is worth possessing it is worth its price in pain.
If you have a dream worth holding it's worth struggling to attain.
For the joys that last the longest, as the distant bends are turned,
Are not the easy splendors, but the joys which you have earned.

If you'd reach the mountain's summit you must have the will to climb.
If you'd rise to fame and glory you must work and bide your time.
For the victory that's sweetest when life's full returns are in,
Is the one that tried your patience and took all your strength to win.

If you hold a high ambition, you must be prepared to wait;
You must trudge the road of courage and must bear the blows of fate.
You must face your years of labor and press forward with a smile.
For it's how you've fought to gain it, that will make your goal worth while.

Have We Too Much Money?

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN, Director
Janesville Daily Gazette Information Bureau,
Washington, D. C.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 24.—So far as you personally are concerned, you probably are not an unhesitating negative; but concerning us all, as a nation, the question is an important one. Some people believe that we have too much money in circulation and that this abundance of the circulating medium is one of the chief causes of high prices.

The argument is a plausible one and it has impressed many persons. They invoke the good old law of supply and demand. If there is a great deal of money in circulation, a proportionate amount of other commodities in circulation, then, they argue, the value of the other commodities as expressed in money will fall and the value of money as expressed in these commodities will rise.

There is also a suspicion abroad that our currency is actually inflated—that the proportion of the circulating medium to the gold that secures it is too large. The last suspicion is put promptly to rest by treasury officials. They point out that every dollar in federal reserve notes issued by a district bank to a member bank of 40 must be secured by the deposit of 40 cents in gold and 60 cents in negotiable securities. All of our issues of currency are therefore adequately secured.

The idea of being unsecured is a mere popular bugaboo and one which should be laid forever to rest. Dollar Denial is a fallacy. Such inflation as there is, is due to the volume of business and the consequent rise in prices. It is certainly no denying that the purchasing power of the dollar, in things we need, has decreased by half in a few years. If you have a dollar in the pocket, you can buy only half as much as you could a year ago as it would in 1913. The goods have gone up, not the dollar.

Is this diminished value of your dollar due to the fact that there are too many dollars in circulation? A question along this line was recently addressed by Senator George P. McLean of the senate committee on banking and currency, to the treasury department.

The treasury department states unequivocally that there is no such thing as an inflated United States currency. It goes even further and states that under our present system of issuing coin and paper money, there can be no such thing as an inflated currency.

To get the facts definitely in mind it may be said that the money in circulation means money in existence in the United States outside of the treasury, and the federal reserve bank notes is the money in the possession of the people and used for the transaction of business.

Circulation Is Increased.
On the first of July, 1914, just before the war broke, there was $3,419,000,000 in circulation. On April 1, 1917, on the eve of our entrance into the conflict, there was $4,100,986,000 in circulation, an increase of more than half a billion. On December 1, 1913, which may be taken as a date near the termination of hostilities, there was $3,119,955,000 in circulation, an increase of 800 million dollars for the war period. Eight months later the amount had shrunk to $4,790,890,000. So, as a matter of fact, there is one-third more currency in circulation than there was in 1914, and one-sixth more than there was in 1917.

The first point that the treasury makes is that these increased amounts of currency, under existing circumstances, are not inflation. The United States is a growing concern and an increase should be expected. Added to the normal increase is the logical increase necessary in carrying on a greatly increased amount of business. The amount of currency necessary should be greater each year, and especially in active years. Furthermore, if prices and wages rise, the amount of currency under the present system, has got to rise to keep up with them. If a man is earning a million dollars a year and working 10 employees in 1918, and paying them an average of $20 a week, he would have required $200 on a Saturday night. Today he pays these men $30 a week and requires $300 in cash.

Bigger Roll Needed in Market.
The housewife must now take along a bigger roll when she goes to the market. The market man must keep more money in his till to conduct his business. Whoever you are and wherever you live, the bulk of money that is necessary for you to use is greater than it used to be. This means that the mass of money in the nation must be greater than it used to be. The amount of currency, say treasury officials, has not increased to a greater extent than is necessary to take care of changed conditions. Having presented these facts to controvert the claim that the currency is inflated, treasury officials step boldly forth with the second claim. They state that there will never be any inflation of currency in this country, that the United States

ROY K. MOULTON

KNOCKING THE CENSUS OUT OF US.

They are oiling up all the old census machinery and getting ready for the trial fight, tightening up the loose nuts and turning up the carburetor. One hundred thousand gentlemen in shiny prince alberts and glee-hawed nose glasses are getting ready to inspect the entire country like a swarm of seven-year locusts and find out all about us that the income tax collectors haven't found out. If the income tax persons have left any information untouched, the census takers will pick it up. This is the age of conservation. Nothing is allowed to go to waste.

The census collectors are the noisy old things. They don't grant me the privacy of an Aquarium sea lion. Their x-ray gaze penetrates to the very soul and some distance beyond. They start in at the flood, when all family trees were supposed to have been reorganized, and come down to the present day, even getting the dope on what the patient had for his last meal.

Some of the most intimate questions that are usually asked are: "Have you any goldfish, bunions or Shanghai roasters?"

"Have you ever suffered burning feet when wearing patent leather shoes?"

"Have you ever died? If so, why and how often? Is it hereditary?" Do you eat paprika on your baked potato? Has any member of your family ever catch catnip on apple pie?

"Have you any liquor concealed about your person or in the house?" "Are you satisfied with the peace arrangements in Europe? If not, shut up."

"Have you ever played tunes on a comb by placing tissue paper over it?" "How would you go to work to make a horse fiddle?"

"What would you do if you were attacked by a garter snake in prohibition times?"

After you have told all you know, all you have to do is to sit around and wait results. The only result comes 10 years afterward in another census.

Come into the kitchen, John. The old-time cook has flown. Come into the kitchen, John. I am here at the sink, alone.

SHERLOCK'S PIKER BROTHER.

WHOEVER HEARD OF SUCH A PLACE?
Wanted to Rent—By quiet, unobtrusive couple, plebians, three connecting rooms (preferably downstairs) furnished for housekeeping, except bath and linen, private or convenient bath; near an owl car line; man works at night. Not ambitious socially; not interested in formalities of these things; prominent relatives. Illustrious ancestors or neighbors' affairs.

If the grafting of glands is to become general many gentlemen will prefer to inherit the proclivities of the camel to those of the monkey. The camel is a wonderful animal in a dry country.

Mexico has stopped the immigration of Chinese. This is a nice piece of luck the Chinese have had in some time.

ASK US

The Gazette maintains an information bureau at Washington, D. C., under the direction of Frederic J. Haskin. Questions will be answered on any subject. Those desiring formalities of these things, prominent relatives. Illustrious ancestors or neighbors' affairs.

Q. What is the percentage of workers in the United States who are organized? H. E.

A. The American Federation of Labor says there are about 4,000,000 organized workers in this country. The 1910 census showed that there were about 38,000,000 persons engaged in gainful occupation. This number undoubtedly has grown. On the basis of these figures there would be 10,000,000 unorganized workers in the United States. This means that 11 out of 12 are unorganized.

Q. What is the penalty for accepting a bribe? K. E. G.

A. Any person who interferes with mail belonging to another person "shall, for every such offense, be punishable by a fine of not more than $500, or by imprisonment at hard labor for not more than one year, or by both."

Q. How many men are there in a regiment? V. V.

A. The maximum strength of an infantry regiment is 103 officers and 3,552 men.

Q. In selecting a climate for a person suffering from catarrh what are the most important factors to be considered? N. D.

A. The United States public health service says that while individual cases demand different climatic conditions it is well to consider the following factors in selecting a health resort for the catarrh victim: An atmosphere relatively free from dust and an absence of sudden great fluctuations of temperature.

Q. Why does a young woman entering a Catholic religious order dress in a bridal costume? V. V.

A. A novice is arrayed in a bridal costume before taking the veil to symbolize her bridal with Christ. After she assumes the black habit, renouncing the world.

Q. What is the mortality rate of children under five years of age? A. Mortality statistics for children under five years show that 228.4 per thousand die.

Q. What is a simple method of cleaning the nickel parts of a stove? M. V.

A. Make a paste of whitening with assa ammonia or, if it is not available, water. Coat the nickel parts with the mixture and allow it to dry. Afterwards rub off with a dry cloth and polish.

Q. Were there any United States soldiers lost in the late war who could not be accounted for? J. E.

A. The war department says that of the four million men who were in the United States army only two soldiers have not been accounted for. They were Gilbert E. Brown, Bozeman, Mont., and William V. Taylor, Elkhart, N. C. The fate of these men is an unsolved mystery.

Q. Is a postal money order a negotiable instrument? V. V.

A. No. It cannot be passed from hand to hand like other forms of negotiable papers. It can only be assigned to one party by the owner.

TWO HEAVILY FINED FOR THRILLING AUTO RACE ON MILTON AVE.

It cost L. V. Moore and D. J. McDaniel just $129.50 for the privilege of staging a sweepstakes automobile race on Milton avenue, yesterday afternoon, and today the two are driving their cars at a snail's pace to avoid court trouble.

The race was scheduled for the pair of speed demons that Desk Sgt. Harvey Jones of the police force happened to be one of the "call-birds" to witness the lightning dash on the Milton avenue speedway. Jones was only one of a number of spectators who marveled at the speed of the two cars and witnessed the neck-and-neck finish at the top of East Milwaukee street hill.

The race was put on shortly before 1 o'clock, when a crowd of people were crossing Milton avenue. McDaniel, driving a delivery car for a local dye establishment, put on all the speed he had, according to the police, in an effort to beat Moore to the top of the hill. Moore, with a larger car, won the race, although he was hard-pushed at the finish.

The two were arrested by the police a few minutes later and when arraigned in municipal court late yesterday afternoon, pleaded guilty. McDaniel was assessed $27.40 while Moore drew a fine of $102.40, it being the second time he has been arraigned at court for speeding. A month ago he was fined $10 and costs for the same offense, so this time a state charge was preferred against him. It was McDaniel's first offense, so he was dismissed with a lighter fine. Both were severely lectured by Judge Maxfield for their careless disregard of other people's lives.

CHIEF DECLARES WAR ON LIGHTLESS AUTOS

Chief Morrissey today declared war on all motorists who fail to burn tail lights on their cars nights. Every officer on the force was issued instructions by the chief today to pick up all offenders and announced that he would see that all would be arraigned in court. After declaring war on the governing the lighting of tail-lights faithfully throughout the summer, the chief says drivers are becoming somewhat lax in the matter and that if it is not to be put to the practice immediately.

TRUCK AND TRAILERS HERE ON STATE TOUR

Janesville was host last night and this morning to an Oldsmobile, pneumatic-tired, truck hauling a string of five Western trailers just starting on a 1,000 mile tour through the entire state. The truck train left Beloit yesterday afternoon and reached Janesville last evening, completing the first lap of the tour. Headquarters were established over night at the Keumener garage, local Oldsmobile distributors.

The tour is sponsored by the L. D. Print Motor company, Milwaukee. George Douglas and L. C. Peterson, representatives of the Cream City firm, are accompanying the truck train on the tour.

The transport left Janesville for Madison this morning.

Defendant Victorious In $100 Dead Cow Case

Judge Maxfield has decided against Mrs. Bertha Cook in her $100 action brought against A. E. Badger, for alleged mistreatment of a cow belonging to her which died in the defendant's pasture.

The court found that the plaintiff secured permission of the defendant to allow the cow to graze on his property together with other cattle, and that Badger was not guilty of any mistreatment of the animal nor liable for its death, as he had not agreed to take care of the animal.

CITY PLANNER NOLEN TO ARRIVE NEXT WEEK

TWO WOMEN ESCAPE FROM ASYLUM; ONE IS STILL MISSING

Two women inmates of the county asylum for the insane escaped from the institution last night and up to an early hour this afternoon only one of them had been found. It is feared that a county-wide search for the other woman will have to be launched tomorrow unless some information concerning her whereabouts is gained tonight.

The escape of the pair was announced to the police this morning by Supt. Archie Cullen and an investigation was begun immediately by Chief Morrissey with the result that one was found on the Hayes farm about three miles west of the city. She evidently had walked all night, probably in an effort to reach her home near Orlinda. She was returned to the asylum tonight by Supt. Cullen.

The second one, Maggie Knight, is still missing. She is said to be the same woman who wandered from her home several years ago and spent a week in a corn-crib. When found by the police after bloodhounds had been called into service, she was nearly dead from hunger. She was then committed to the asylum.

MERCHANTS OFFER PRIZES FOR "Y" BOYS

Interest is increasing in the boys' division of the "Y" in their part of the drive for $20,000 and 700 new members. The boys have been divided into teams and each team is actively engaged in doing its utmost to obtain the greatest number of members and the largest amount in subscriptions.

Boys' secretary A. C. Preston announces that several of the business men have taken special interest in the work that the boys are doing in the present drive and in an effort to encourage them a number of the business men have offered a prize to the boys obtaining the largest number of new members and the highest subscription list.

Among the prizes offered is a football put up by the Sheldon Hardware company, a jersey offered by The Golden Eagle, a pair of basket ball shoes from Safady Brothers, and a pound box of candy from Homsey Brothers.

Record of Forgetful Bridegroom Frees Another
London.—John Landsdowne, a clerk, under arrest on complaint of his bride-to-be for forgetting to show up for the marriage ceremony was freed by a local magistrate who declared:
"Many famous men have had memories in regard to the same subject."

The Rev. George Harvest was to have been married to the daughter of Bishop Compton, of London, but on the morning fixed for the ceremony he forgot all about it and went fishing. Mr. Pasteur, the scientist, was so absorbed in his work on the day of his marriage that he kept his bride waiting an hour at the altar without putting in his appearance.
After Thomas Edison's wedding he returned to his workshop and entirely forgot his newly-made wife for 48 hours. When John Kenble, the great tragedian, was married, he returned to the stage a few hours after the ceremony. After the show he went to his bachelor apartment, forgetting what had happened to him on the fateful day.

THE COW PUNCHER

BY ROBERT J. C. STEAD
Author of
"Kitcheners, and Other Poems"

Copyright by Harper & Brothers

The color rose in Irene's cheeks, but she knew that her friend was discussing a serious matter seriously. Why, yes," she admitted, "I have contemplated it. In fact, I am contemplating it. That's one of the reasons I want to start earning a living. I mean, I want to marry as a matter of choice—not because it's the only way out."

"Now you're talking," said Bert. "And most of us girls who marry as a matter of choice don't marry. I've only known one man from a proposal would set me thinking. And he'll never propose to me—not now. Not since Miss Irene Hardy came west."

"Oh," said Irene, slowly, "I'm so sorry."

"It's all right," said Bert, looking out of the window. "Just another of life's little bumps. You go on to do your thing. But you want a job. Let me see; you draw, don't you?"

"Just for pastime. I can't earn a living that way."

"Not so sure. Perhaps not with art in the abstract. You must commercialize it. If you, on the one hand, can make a picture of the Rockies, which you can't sell, and the other, can make a picture of a pair of shoes, which you can sell, which, as a woman of good sense, in need of the similes, are you going to do? You're going to draw the shoes—and the pay-check. Now I think I can get you started that way, on catalogue work and ad cuts. Try your pencil on something anything at all—and bring down a few samples."

So Irene's little studio-room began to take on a practical purpose. It was work which called for form and pro-

Hair Often Ruined
By Washing With Soap

Soap should be used very carefully, if you want to keep your hair looking its best. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it.

The best thing for steady use is just ordinary mulsified coconut oil (which is pure and greaseless), and is better than the most expensive soap or anything else you can use.

One or two teaspoonfuls will cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silky bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get mulsified coconut oil at any pharmacy. It's very cheap, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months.

17,000 Settlers Enter
West Canada in 6 Months

Winnipeg, Man.—Settlers numbering 17,573 have entered western Canada in the first six months of the present year, according to figures of the Department of Immigration and Colonization, and have brought with them money and personal property valued approximately at $3,572,893.

This is an increase of 2,338 settlers and about $551,517 in property over the same period last year. The newcomers are of all nationalities, but by far the largest proportion give their birthplace as the United States.

Most of the immigrants were farmers with their families.

LOYD-GEORGE RULE,
DEFEATED, IS NOT EXPECTED TO RESIGN

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
London, Oct. 24.—Members of the Lloyd-George cabinet are today considering the situation which has arisen as a result of the reverse vote in the house of commons yesterday when the government's amendment to the alien bill was rejected by a vote of 185 to 113.

As there were only about half of the members of the house in their seats when the vote was taken, it is believed the government will not resign, but it is possible the Edward Shortt, home secretary, who was in charge of the alien bill, may quit office. Andrew Bonar Law, government leader in the house, secured a delay until Monday for his colleagues by moving an adjournment immediately after the result of the vote on the alien bill was announced. Bonar Law's declaration that any subsequent action by the ministry would depend upon the vote of the house of commons as a whole may indicate an intention on the part of government to ask for a vote of confidence at an early date.

It was reported this afternoon that the cabinet was devising a method by which the commons might reconsider its decision regarding the alien bill. The commons rejected the government's amendment to the alien bill. It is pointed out that such certificates are restricted to a few French cross-channel pilots daily entering British ports in return for similar privileges to British pilots.

Opposition to any change in fiscal policies of Great Britain and a plea for careful consideration of the situation before the commons were expressed in the house of lords today by Viscount Milner, secretary of state for colonies, who introduced a resolution calling attention to the "graying of commons and position" and suggesting the necessity for the imposition of additional taxes.

"I deprecate panicky views which are prevalent regarding the country's financial position," said Viscount Milner.

Viscount Milner warmly defended the government against charges of neglect to care for the financial situation of the country.

BEEES FIND ROOSTING PLACE IN SILO WALLS

Madison, Oct. 20.—Fort Atkinson has a "beekeeper" who wants to get out of the business but the bees won't let him. He has two silos and regular bee trees. Recently his automobile came to his rescue.

The state department of agriculture put into the hands of the district attorney of Jefferson county a case of failure to comply with an order issued under the new apicary inspection law. The bees are building comb between the two walls of the silos which were apparently diseased. He tried to get carpenters to put new siding on the silo but carpenters are overworked in Wisconsin and he was unsuccessful in locating any willing to tackle the job. Finally, desperate, a head was attached to the exhaust of his car and inserted in the wall of the silo. The bees rapidly succumbed.

When The Day Is Over

When the day is over, the worries of everyday life have dragged you down, made you unhappy, and there is nothing in life but headache, backache and worry. Turn to the right prescription, one gotten up by Dr. Pierce fifty years ago.

Everything growing out of the ground seems intended for some use in establishing natural conditions. Dr. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., long since found out that is naturally best for women's diseases. He learned it all through treating thousands of cases. The result of his studies was a medicine called Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. This medicine is made of vegetable growths that nature surely intended for backache, headache, weakening, bearing-down pains, irregularities, pelvic inflammations, and for many disorders common to women in all ages of life. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is made of lady's slipper root, black cohosh root, unicorn root, blue cohosh root and Oregon grape root. Dr. Pierce knew, when he first made this standard medicine, that whiskey and morphia are injurious, and so he has always kept them out of his remedy. Women who take this standard remedy know that in Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription they are getting a safe woman's tonic so good that druggists everywhere sell it, in liquid or tablet form.

POLISH CHILDREN
NO LONGER PLAY,
SAYS RELIEF WORKER

New York, Oct. 24.—"Poland is a land where the children no longer play." That's the way Lieut. Maurice Park, U. S. A., who had charge of the children's work for the American Relief administration in Warsaw, summed up his story of the day-by-day existence and needs of the little folks in the saddest country of all Europe.

He has just returned from months of activity abroad to enlist the cooperation of various relief organizations in the raising of about $5,000,000 with which to clothe 1,000,000 youngsters sufficiently to keep from freezing this winter.

Just a word about the youthful foster-father of a family larger than the Old Woman of the Shoe ever dreamed of. He's the type that would look equally as well in football togs as in Uncle Sam's khaki. He related his experience with the characteristic modesty of a United States army man.

"When I saw what those small folks were up against," quickly marked the young officer, "I decided that I wanted to give to the job of helping every bit of pep I had in me."

That is why he is eager to go back to Poland.

One of the first organizations he asked for aid on his arrival in New York was the joint distribution committee, which has the sole charge of the disposal of all funds raised in this country by the American Jewish relief organizations, and which directs all American Jewish relief operations in Europe. The committee promptly contributed half a million dollars.

"Do children in Poland act as other children?" repeated the lieutenant in answer to an inquiry. "Why they can't. For nearly five years these little folks have been almost constantly hungry. Naturally they're not exactly cheerful. They are listless, almost listless. They no longer act like children. When they are able to move, they move like little old men and women."

The children's relief bureau is strenuously trying to "rejuvenate" the little war sufferers, the officer said, and the results of even one meal a day of milk and bread, or cocoa and bread, or soup and bread, are already noticeable. But the systematic relief must be continued if the thin thread by which the children are held back from starvation is not to be snapped.FIRST GAMES IN

FORMER LOCAL MAN DIES IN MILWAUKEE

William Schaller, for many years a resident of Janesville, passed away suddenly while at his work in Milwaukee Wednesday morning. He was apparently in the best of health upon going to work, but was stricken shortly after he had run his engine out of the round-house.

The deceased was born in Janesville in 1862 and attended the public schools here, later learning the blacksmith trade at the old Janesville Carriage Works. He went to live in Milwaukee when a young man and had made his home there since that time. For 33 years he was employed by the Northwestern railroad as an engineer.

He is survived by his wife, one daughter, Norma, and a son, Edward. Four brothers, Albert, Charles, and Fred, all of this city. George, Washington, and one sister, Mary, this city, also survive.

The funeral party will arrive in Janesville on the Northwestern line at 1:10 o'clock tomorrow afternoon and the body will be taken directly to Oak Hill cemetery for interment.

Pastor Seizes Slot Machines
Kenosha—The Rev. J. J. Conway, assistant priest of St. James' church, finds owners of places where gaming devices are used, complimenting him on the crusade he has started against slot machines kept in numerous stores. With Police Detective Chas. Rock, Father Conway has seized 40 machines. He said "My only interest in the affair was to throw protection about the children. The children were being led on by these devices to squander their money. The owners of places where we seized machines seemed to realize the evil that existed and complimented us upon our crusade."

Illinois Harvests Bumper Corn Crop Of 300,000,000 Bushels; Leading U. S.

Bloomington, Ill.—Illinois is deep in its harvest of corn. A bumper crop of 300,000,000 bushels is being gathered, adding nearly $400,000,000 to the agricultural wealth of the commonwealth and leading all states of the union in the production of this cereal. With the exception of corn, all growing crops in Illinois deteriorated during the closing weeks of summer, due to the drought. Corn alone was uninjured.

They specialize in educated corn.

Students at Illinois State Normal University earning pin money shucking corn and specimens of Illinois corn being harvested this season. Reiser shows size of ears.

In Illinois, this state has been experimenting for twenty years with a view of increasing the quality and productivity of the corn. The ideal ear is 10 inches long; its grains are wedge shaped and long, set in 24 rows, as straight as soldiers on dress parade. The high grade ears are symmetrical and the grains are packed as closely as gems set by a jeweler upon a bar of gold. There is no waste. It contains more grain in weight than the common ear, is richer in protein, the most essential food property in corn, and represents the highest development that scientific farming has attained. It has been educated.

There is no other plant known to nature which yields so great returns for a given amount of labor where conditions are favorable as corn. Besides the ordinary uses as a food for man or beast, 30 commercial uses have been found for it.

Products are produced from the grain. These include six kinds of mixing glucose, such as that used by refiners of table syrups; brewers' leather; manufacturers, jelly makers; four kinds of crystal glucose, used by manufacturing confectioners; two kinds of grape-sugar, used by brewers and bakers; anhydrous sugar, used by ale and beer brewers and apothecaries; starch, used by cotton and paper mills; powdered starch, used by baking powder manufacturers; refined grits; flours; four kinds of dextrine; corn oil; corn oleate; rubber substitution; corn gums; British gum; granulated gum; distilled spirits; fusel oil; alcohol; corn meal; corn down, etc. Of equal importance and value is the stalk. From it is made cellulose, for packing caskets and of battleships to be used by shells; pyroxylin varnish; cellulose for notracting purposes; cellulose for packing; paper pulp and various forms of paper, alone and mixed with different grades of paper stock; livestock food; mixed food with distillery refuse; and poultry food. Each of the foregoing may be subdivided into a great variety of purposes. Lastly, the cob is converted into several articles of commerce. Aside from being pressed into service as an emergency cork, its chief use is in the manufacture of pipes, "Missouri Meerschaums."

Harvesting, which has just commenced in Illinois, will continue until well into the winter, dependent upon the ability of the farmers to employ labor. While there are a number of corn husking machines upon the market, they have not come into general use as yet, the common practice being to snap or husk the ear from the standing stalk by hand.

The Daily Novelette

On Goats

"Say, Pa," yelled Tommy Askitt, impatiently. "Pa looked up almost too innocent-ly. 'Now, Pa, you heard me the first time. If I tell you all I know about goats the first time you called—' 'Well, what is it, I'm asking you? Spel away, son, make your fool questions somewhat short, I'm busy.' 'Honest, Pa, I hate to ask yuh, but I've got to write an essay on 'Goats' tomorrow. I don't know any-thing about goats, but if you had let me buy that one of Skippy Williamses, I could—' 'Oh, can the eas, Thomas—can the eas. I'll tell you all I know about goats if you'll promise to shut up for the rest of the evening.' 'In the first place there are sev-eral kinds. What the special species that you were told to write about?'"

"No, Pa, just goats, that's all." "Well, that makes it—er, simpler. Very simple. There are billy-goats who eat tin cans and butt people over fences; then the nanny-goats give milk and your grandfather Askitt had one that he brought from Switzerland. 'There was nothing we boys liked better than to go to grandfather's and drink goat-milk and eat goat-cheese.' 'Now, William,' said Ma, 'that's a little too thin. Your's grandfather never left the old U. S. A. You told me so yourself.' 'Having no ready answer, Pa was obliged to continue with 'bats' and 'bats'." "Then there are people's goats. They—' 'Yes, Thomas, your father has often gotten people's goats. Especially the time he sold Mr. Whopper our old lawn mower that—' 'We're speaking of goats, Mrs. Askitt,' said Pa with dignity. 'Then, Thomas, there are Angora goats with long, silky hair. Angora—' 'That reminds me, William. When are you going to buy me that forty-dollar white Angora sweater you promised? I'll give you one more day to get it." "Good-night!" exclaimed Pa. "I forgot that pinhole date with the boys in the engine house." And he grabbed his coat and beat it.

EX-CONVICT'S SURPRISE.
London.—"What, I am summoned for income tax after doing 21 years' penal servitude in Dartmoor, and an old man at 74? You are driving me to commit another felony to pay this," said a man at Woolwich. "I have walked from Dulwich, and caught a glass of beer on the way," he added.

"Please give me 6d. out of the poor box, so I shall not have to walk back."

The authorities said the man's former character had nothing to do with the matter. He had been assessed and must pay.

WHO'S WHO in the Day's News

MME. CLEMENCEAU-JACQUEMAIRE.

Distinguished daughter of a famous sire, Mme. Clemenceau-Jacquemaire will visit the United States this autumn, leaving France Oct. 25, according to a cable message just received here. The author of a number of successful works on social and war problems; she will deliver a series of lectures in New York and other cities on French home life and post-bellum conditions.

Although she served as a nurse in hospitals at Verdun and Canigny and was, naturally, an intimate observer of the history-making events in France.

Her discussions will deal with the home life, customs and characteristics of her countrymen, and being the daughter of an American mother, who taught her to speak English at an early age, she is well equipped for the lecture platform in this country.

Mrs. Jacquemaire inherited from her father her gifts as a writer and public speaker, and for many years has been a regular contributor to French, English and other continental periodicals, writing on social problems and Parisian life. Among her books is "Les Hommes de Bonne Volonte," which has run through several editions, and is a record of her close-up war impressions and experiences. During her hospital work she served a large number of Americans, and describes the work of the Yankee units in the volume.

Besides her lecture tour, under the management of the Lee Keedick bureau, Mme. Clemenceau-Jacquemaire will undertake a study of the social and political activities of American women, the results of which she will report in a series of articles to Parisian journals and later from the French lecture stage.

Vineyard Men to Turn Crop into Grape Jam

[BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS.]
San Jose, Cal.—Just because one of the great American institutions is grape jam many vineyard men here aren't worrying.

Professor W. V. Cruess, of the University of California, came here and showed the grape men how to make a delicious jam from their wine grapes.

A considerable portion of the wine crop of this locality is now being cooked into this jam. The price brought equals that offered for the grapes by the wineries.

Coblentz.—The America News, the daily published for the soldiers of the American army of occupation, publishes this gentle editorial reminder: "Some of the American soldiers continue to claim that it is difficult to distinguish between an American lady and a German lady. Candidly, we don't see why this should cause any worry. If you act as a gentleman, it doesn't make any difference if the lady is American, French, Belgian or German. Just be sure you are acting a gentleman and the nationality of the lady needn't bother you. Isn't that so?"

TRAVELETTE

By NIKSAH.

RUSINIA.

There is a new country under the sun with a government modeled upon that of the United States. Its name is Rusinia. It is situated in the very midst of that part of Europe which went to pieces like a bit clay pigeon, and is just now fitting itself together again with political boundaries along the lines of the cracks.

Rusinia is a narrow strip of a country with Uralia on one of its long sides and Hungary on the other. At the southeast end is Roumania and at the northwest end is Czechoslovakia. There are within its bound over a million people, mostly of Slavic blood, formerly ruled by Austria-Hungary. Its capital is Uzhorod.

It was because of the presence of an American citizen in this city of Uzhorod at a psychological moment that Rusinia is getting up in this chaotic corner of the world a government that follows the precepts of Washington and Jefferson.

Gregory Uzhovitch was an American lawyer who had been trained in the United States and who had practiced in Pittsburgh. His parents had come from this part of the world and he went to visit the ancestral haunts, about the time the people of Uzhorod and the surrounding country decided to carve out a free country for themselves. None of the new nations roundabout seemed to be laying very strong claim to them.

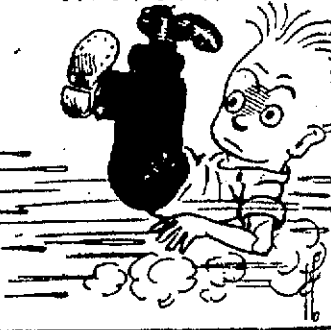

They would be free to carve out a free country for themselves. But they did not have very definite ideas as to what sort of government they wanted. Many of them had relatives who had gone to the United States and who had written home glowing letters of the land of freedom. While their impressions of the big country across the sea were favorable, their ideas of how to cut themselves out a little nation by the U. S. pattern were very hazy. But Gregory Uzhovitch, the American lawyer, was there and knew the constitution by heart and all about the American scheme of government. He furnished the facts upon which the western idea of democracy was planted in strange soil.

A Lot of Men

Have Been Visiting Our Store
The Past Week---

Selecting their patterns for the new Fall suit and overcoat. They were mostly men who have been satisfied customers for years—and a few friends whom they told to come in.

—but there are more men wanting quality clothes this Fall than there are good woollens to "go round". The woolen mills just simply could not produce the cloth the men of America require.

Right now—we are showing good woollens—and lots of them. You men who won't need clothes till "later", should, by all means, pick out your pattern NOW, while the selection of real woollens is large.

New Ways of Arranging the Hair

By ELOISE.

What is the most fashionable way to arrange the hair this spring? In Paris the Greek mode seems most in favor. That is, the arrangement is called Greek, though it is clearly stamped with the mode of the year 1919 and nothing else. In this fashion the hair is allowed to come down low on the forehead and well over the ears, though there is no exaggeration to puff on the ears. It is rather snug at the nape of the neck and then rises to a graceful arch just behind the crown of the head. Usually three bandeaux go to make this secure and to give it character, the lowest of these being usually placed directly over the forehead, sometimes without even a suspicion of hair beneath it. Sometimes the two others are fairly close, and in other arrangements the last one is drawn about the base of the psyche and the middle one-half way between that and the forehead band. For evening wear they are of pearls or gold or metal braid. When this style is worn in the day they are most usually of tulle or ribbon. The "jeune fille" still clings to the exaggerated rolls that extend out over the ears and beneath the hat, usually leaving a very minimum of hair with which to make the knot in the back. But the "jeune fille" doesn't seem to care about the back knot at all so long as her precious ear puffs are generous in proportion. But this full roll over the ears is really not in general favor, and though sometimes rather effective on the youthful face it does not chime in very well with the mores of the day, which really demands a closer arrangement of the hair about the face. Even the bobbed heads of the present time do not give this effect as they did a year or so ago, the effect produced now by the short locks being one that suggests more the hair arrangement of a medieval youth, being cut shorter on the outside and longer down toward the ears, giving a rounder appearance to the finished silhouette. But only a comparatively small number of women did have their hair bobbed. And those who had done it because they thought it would make the arrangement of their hair an easier and simpler matter were much mistaken, for the bobbed hair has to be curled with great regularity to keep the ends curved in as they should be, and it is not every hairdresser that knows the trick of dressing bobbed heads. These are the questions which will perplex the woman who follows the trend of fashionable coiffures: Will the pompadour return? Are we gain to have our hair built up on shapes of metal wire and jute and dyed Chinamen's queues? Is the "pau" to return to vex us? Or what next?

Pleasant Fields Of Holy Writ

Fourth Quarter: Lesson IV: Matthew XIV: 22-33: October 26, 1919. Golden Text: I believe; help thou mine unbelief. Mark LX 24. "Jesus, Deliver! Come thou my voyaging. Soothe thou my voyaging. Over life's sea. Thou, when the storm of death Boars sweeping by. Whisper, O Truth of truth! Peace! It is I!" —St. Ananias.

A LESSON IN TRUST
Jesus sent his disciples into this storm. They were evidently disinclined to embark, not necessarily that they foresaw the danger, but probably because they did not wish to leave the Master. Every hour spent out of his company was an hour lost. Then, too, it pained them to leave him in the solitude. But Jesus was peremptory. There was nothing for them to do but to go aboard ship. . . . Mark says that from the mountain top he saw his disciples toiling in rowing. Their little boat was tossed about and distressed by the wind which blew through the gullies in the cliffs as through so many funnels. The crew have felt neglected, forsaken in extremity. Perhaps they were ready to repeat the words used on one former occasion: "Curse thou not that we perish?" . . . Still Jesus delayed the rescue which he must have intended from the beginning. As in the case of Martha, Mary, and Lazarus he did this because he loved his disciples. Their human skill, personal fortitude, and religious faith must be developed and tested. So only after the whole night was past, in the fourth—the morning—the last thing he saw before he entered the sea. It is curiously placed on the entablature above the central portal. No one sees it on entering. No one can help but see it on going out. The purpose would seem to be to remind one of the frailty of the man for whom the most gorgeous temple on earth is named, and thus keep the balance. . . . In the Raccian Cathedral the triumph of the ascension is depicted. Jesus is shown with his arms outstretched, and the answer is, "He ascended often into heaven, and there received new supplies for new emergencies" (the quotation is from memory and not verified). It is a crude and mechanical conception, but in a sense very true. Every time Jesus went into the garden or mountain-top it is as if he ascended clusion has been a source of instruction, inspiration, and courage to multitudes of disciples in every age and in every kind of peril—whether self-incurred or not.

THE TEACHER'S LANTERN
This picturesque scene is designed to be, it is an acted parable. To his dying day each disciple must have remembered and treasured it. Not only so, but the Church collectively and individual believers to the end of time, in their personal experience, will find cheer and help in it for the most appalling catastrophes. . . . Charles Sumner, in an impassioned period, once exclaimed: "If the universe of God there are no accidents. From the fall of a sparrow to the sweep of a planet he orders and governs all!" . . . The storms of life are no accidents. They are sent, and we are sent into them for a wise and beneficent purpose. . . . The Lord's clock goes at such a different rate from our timepieces. The "fourth watch" seemed mortal ages to the storm-beaten disciples. . . . Converts must not be coddled. Jesus might have said to Peter, extenuatingly: "Yes, the waves were high and the wind was violent." Instead of that the Master pictured the triumph of which he felt short. And he plainly told the cause of it. . . . The Master's caution did not save Peter from serious subsequent lapses, but it saved him from a total apostasy. Who knows? . . . A hand that is not ours upstays our steps.

A voice that is not ours commands the waves: Commands the waves and whispers to our ears. "O thou of little faith, why didst thou doubt?"

As the visitor stands in the porch of St. Peter's Cathedral in Rome, with his back to all its glories, the last thing he sees before he enters is a glorious wonderful mosaic of this scene. It is curiously placed on the entablature above the central portal. No one sees it on entering. No one can help but see it on going out. The purpose would seem to be to remind one of the frailty of the man for whom the most gorgeous temple on earth is named, and thus keep the balance. . . . In the Raccian Cathedral the triumph of the ascension is depicted. Jesus is shown with his arms outstretched, and the answer is, "He ascended often into heaven, and there received new supplies for new emergencies" (the quotation is from memory and not verified). It is a crude and mechanical conception, but in a sense very true. Every time Jesus went into the garden or mountain-top it is as if he ascended to heaven. The world was shut out and he was shut in with God in a communion in which he was refreshed and strengthened with new visions of truth as it related to present emergencies. Every disciple can imitate his Master in this. He can make an ascension to heaven and talk with God. . . . In Michael Angelo's place in Florence, you are shown a secret panel in the wall. Opened it discloses a closet lighted with one small window. Here the great artist made his ascension to heaven which have enriched the world forever. We should never have a statue of David, or a fresco of the Last Judgment or the Parthenon swung in the air above St. Peter's if it had not been for the secret communion of that hidden retreat. . . . The need of current life is an imitation of Jesus in these retreats for meditation and moral refreshment. Time apparently lost would be really gained in the better view of one's self and one's environment which would thus be obtained. . . . George Herbert says quaintly:

"Choose sometime to be alone:
Salute thyself, see what thy soul
Open thy chest and tumble up
And down,
What thou findest there, for 't is Thine own."

CHRISTIANITY AND THE HEALTH OF CHINA

(Missionary Meeting)

The most determined and scientific effort in the history of the world is now being made in China to teach a nation the danger of disease. This means using the motion picture, tabulated statements thrown upon the screen, model sanitary homes and spotless towns. One of the most startling of the devices is that of an endless procession of miniature Chinamen out a plank labelled "Tuberculosis!" of every size and end, yet they keep coming on. Much has already been accomplished. For example, ten thousand blind persons have their sight restored every year by the medical missionaries. Jesus' miracles in Galilee are being repeated by his disciples in China. The ignorant witch-doctors have taken to flight before them and the most backward nation in the world is on the point of sanitary redemption.

"PERFUMED POPINJAYS" NOW REPLACING HEROES OF WAR
London.—One of the most astounding results of the recent world war is the change now evident in men who went through a literal hell on the battlefields. They are now going in for scented hair and scents and are known as "perfumed popinjays." The use of scent by the perfumed popinjay, declares a well known British psychologist, "is a reaction from the hard conditions of life in the army. The number of men who constantly use scent these days is amazing. They spray their ties, waistcoats, hair and even their gloves with it."

"Women also are showing preference for exotic and oriental perfumes rather than for the plain English scents of the country garden." Some British women are also following a custom, started here by an American woman, of having their pet poodle dogs sprayed daily with expensive perfumes.

Warm Winter Predicted
La Crosse.—There are no signs of a cold winter around La Crosse; on the contrary everything points to a mild one, the old timers say. Several farmers here have reported their strawberry plant—producing real berries. Dr. R. M. L. Kinnear swears that the apple trees at his summer home on French lake are blossoming. And Fred Hagen, city resident, has a lilac bush in full bloom, something never seen here before. Yes, there are plenty of robins in town.

WITH THE WOMEN OF TODAY

When we hear the term business woman we usually think of a trim person, neatly dressed in tailored suit and high necked blouse, with sensible shoes and with a look of efficiency and a strong-mindedness rather than beauty about her. Of course there are other business women but the main difference between them seems to be in the height of their heels or the cut of their suits or the size of their hats—or salaries. But there are other business women in this world that most of us know nothing about. They are women who know nothing of etiquette or feminine movements. They do not spend half of their earnings on clothes or matinee. They know nothing of henn colored coiffures and yet they are modern business women.

In fact, off Siam women are invading the marts of trade and industry just as they are every place in the world. There are every place also the two provinces of the world. The photograph shows a pair of women river merchants on the river Menam in Siam. They are dressed in traditional Siamese dress, wearing long, flowing robes and carrying large, flat, circular hats. They are standing on a wooden platform, possibly a boat or a dock, with a river and some buildings in the background.

STATUS OF WOMEN

IN LEAGUE OF NATIONS
Norway has hurried to the front in appointing a woman to sit in the assembly of the league of nations and it is reported that Italy is about to follow suit. This is interesting in view of the fact that the great republics of the world have as yet appointed no delegates.

A conference of 95 women's societies met in London last month to discuss the league of nations when it was found that "there is not one point among its vast and intricate subjects with which the league will have to deal which does not in the long run affect women as well as men."

Points which specially attract the attention of women are those concerned with the nationality of mar-

R. C. CHRISTMAS SEAL SALE BEING PLANNED

Milwaukee, Oct. 23.—To defend its position as one of the foremost states of the union in public health work, and more particularly in the universal fight against tuberculosis Wisconsin is now preparing for a record-breaking sale of Red Cross Christmas seals.

BITRO-PHOSPHATE IS GOOD FOR THIN NERVOUS PEOPLE

A French scientist has discovered an organic phosphate which should be a very effective remedy for weak nerves, sleeplessness, thinness and lack of strength, energy and vigor.

Its substance is described by specialists as identical in composition with certain vital elements naturally found in brain and nerve cells and one which when taken into the human system is quickly converted into healthy living tissue.

This phosphate is already widely known among druggists in this country as Bitro-Phosphate and some physicians claim that through its use strength, energy, vigor and nerve force are frequently increased in two weeks' time.

Dr. Frederic Kalle, Editor of New York Physicians' "Who's Who," says it should be prescribed by every doctor and used in every hospital in the United States. As there are a great variety of so-called phosphates, those who wish to test this substance should be sure to get the genuine Bitro-Phosphate.

MISSION CARAVAN ATTACKED BY BANDITS

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Constantinople, Oct. 23.—Major-General Harbord of the American mission to Armenia, was congratulated upon his arrival here on his escape from capture by bandits near Mount Ararat, while the mission was returning to Erivan. Part of the mission was attacked and held prisoners for a few hours by Kurds, Tatars and Turks.

The attack came while the caravan was proceeding through the valley of the Araxes. General Harbord's car had reached the plain leading to Erivan before the attack was made. The original reason for the attack appears to be that bands who are warring on the Armenians doubted the nationality of the Americans. After the bandit chiefs had assured themselves that their prisoners were really Americans, they were released, their automobiles restored, and their property which had been stolen was given back to them.

The chiefs declared they desired peace and asserted that peace was possible only if some strong outside power intervened. They expressed the fear that thousands would starve in the winter owing to unsettled conditions in Armenia.

Boy Wins Latin Prize
Appleton—For the first time in seven years a male student has won a Latin prize at Lawrence college. It has been taken by Carl Trever, an Appleton High school graduate. He took the Lawrence scholarship, while Helen Mills, another Appleton High school graduate, won the Norman Brokaw scholarship, also for Latin. The scholarships are worth $100. Last year both winners were also graduates of the Appleton High school.

Petersborough, Eng. — Absalom Bellum, aged 41, of Cleveland, famous for its ability, has performed a feat of endurance by walking continuously to and fro across the market place, 25 yards wide, from seven in the morning until three in the afternoon dressed in khaki.

He won a wager of a shilling and a pint of beer per hour with food. He crossed the market place over 2,000 times.

Fish Meal as a Stock Food and Fertilizer

Prince Rupert, B. C.—Fish meal as a live-stock food and a fertilizer is rapidly establishing itself in Western Canada. The new product is made from salt-water fish waste obtained from the salmon canneries along the coast of British Columbia. Cattle, hogs and poultry feed on it with relish and it has with marked success and apparently have developed a relish for the new food.

The ROMANCE of TRUE STORIES of R BUSINESS SUCCESSFUL WOMEN

Leaves Farm for City
After reading the advertisement she decided to go to a dressmaking school as an apprentice. She found one which paid a small sum while learning and started to learn her trade. To earn the money for her board she made clothes for the children of women in the neighborhood or her sister's friends. This was a very small beginning, but it led to a most unusual and interesting career.

When Hanna finished her apprenticeship she started to work as a helper in the establishment of one of the city's most exclusive dressmakers. Here she did all kinds of odd jobs and she was usually given old garments which were being made over to work on. In working with these old garments she developed an economical cutter and she also developed some talent for designing. Other girls would have rebelled if always given old material to work on, but Hanna seemed to like remodeling and making old things look like new. In a few years she was well known by the customers of the fashionable modists and they began to ask for her when they wanted their old suits and frocks renovated.

In the dull seasons Hanna would work for these people at their homes and she would sometimes be engaged for the entire dull season long before the busy season was well begun. She would work for one family for weeks at a time, economically turning old things into new. Gradually her time became so much in demand that she had to leave the tailoring firm to fill her engagements.

She earned a fair salary when she worked for the firm, but most of her earnings were eaten up by doctoring a tubercular brother and helping the family of an irresponsible brother-in-law. When she started out for herself she decided to specialize on children's clothes. For a while she did anything that came her way and as she gained customers and confidence she began to do more children's work. She conceived a brilliant plan which netted her many new customers and started her on her unusual work. She wrote a letter to the wealthy customers of her old firm, or rather, since she had not had enough education to write well, she had a friend write it for her. In her letter she asked the woman of the house if she did not have at least a trunk full of old clothes which she was saving "in case they might come good some time." Then she asked if one for that matter, who was about to start back to school, or preparing to go to college or boarding school, or to spend several months away from home. If this was the case, she asked the mistress of the house why she did not use up her old material now before the moths destroyed it or it became too hopelessly old-fashioned.

Her Idea Popular.
The number of replies she received was unusually encouraging and before a week was up she was starting with her first customer as Hannah James, Specialist, School Wardrobes, Renovating and Remodeling. The wonders she worked with discarded suits, coats, and even hats was the subject of much of the conversation over the tea cups during the first few weeks and she needed no other advertising. For 13 years now she has been fitting out the youth of the Four Hundred in her town with their school wardrobes. She has found abundant compensation not only financially but in the enjoyment she gets from creating cunning little frocks, and other frills.

Alone in Her Field.
It has been said that no two children have ever had the same kind of an outfit and especially no two who were going to the same school or traveled in the same set. Of course, Miss James does not confine herself to making over garments. She just as often makes dainty party frocks, afternoon dresses, and walking suits from new material which she usually picks out and buys herself and she has entered upon a new line of work in just the last few years. She not only makes many of the garments for the school wardrobes, but she takes the children with her and buys the ready-made things, such as shoes, hose, handkerchiefs, gloves and other things which must be bought of necessity. She often buys frocks, too, when she thinks it more economical, and then she will add a touch here and there or alter it to suit her small charge. She has had to limit her customers to the number of 20 or less for she usually gives each one about two weeks at a time.

She still has many uses for the money she earns, for she is now sending her sister's boy and girl through school, and she claims that the school outfit which she enjoyed working on most was the one for her niece when she started to college last year.

Rabbi Leaves Appleton
Appleton—Rabbi E. Gerechter, pastor of Temple Zion for 27 years, who recently resigned, has gone to live in New York. Dr. Gerechter was professor of German and Hebrew languages at Lawrence college for many years. Six years ago he retired as professor emeritus. Prior to coming to Appleton in 1892, Rabbi Gerechter was in Milwaukee for 12 years.
